SCHOOL BOARD ATTEMPTS ECONOMY ON TEACHERS' SALARIES

The regular monthly meeting of the Blairmore Board of School Trustees on Friday night last was attended by the chairman and secretary and all members of the board.

The minutes of previous regular meeting were approved as read and a few small accounts were passed for payment.

Reports from the inspector on the various departments of the public school came in for discussion. Generally speaking, the work of the school for the past year has been satisfactory. Recommendations made by the inspector will likely be acted upon.

Several applications were received for possible vacancies that might occur on the teaching staff. These were filed for future reference.

Question of obtaining presiding examiner for the forthcoming examination, occupied considerable time and owing to the lateness of the hour, the meeting adjourned to Monday night at 8 o'clock.

The meeting resumed on Monday night at the hour appointed.

Matter of presiding examiner was again taken up. A reply was received from Principal Asseltine, of Bellevue, stating his willingness to act as presiding examiner, subject to approval by Principal Conway. Mr. Conway objected, on the grounds that Bellevue had not offered to co-operate on the basis of exchange. Instead, they had appointed their vice-principal to act as examiner.

It was next learned that the secretary in corresponding with Bellevue, asked for the services of Mr. Asseltine instead of asking for an inter-change for the examinations. Secretary was instructed to again write Mr. Asseltine and the secretary of the Bellevue Board, asking for exchange of principals, failing which an effort would be made to secure either Mr. Tonks, of Hillcrest; Mr. Stevenson, of Pincher Creek, or some qualified party through the provincial department of education. While the above matter was being discussed, Mr. Conway was asked to leave the room.

Question of salaries next came up for discussion. Resolutions were introduced, one suggesting a cut of 10 per cent all the way through, another 12 1/2 per cent. Member Wheatley objected strongly to any such attempt, claiming that there were other avenues through which the board might do well to economize. The proposed cut would mean a saving to the rate payers of from $1400 to $1600 a year, or practically one-tenth of one per cent. Apart from the very few large taxpayers, such reduction could scarcely be felt, and while it was claimed that some of the ratepayers had been demanding a pruning of expenses, it is confidently believed that the ratepayers would not stand for any pruning of teachers' salaries at this time.

However a resolution was introduced and passed, asking the teachers to consider accepting a reduction of from 10 to 12 1/2 per cent.

Communications were received from the Board secretaries at Bellevue and Coleman, each stating that no salary cuts were being made this year.

Motion by Hamilton, that the chairman approach the council, asking for rebate of water rates for the period of the summer holidays. Carried.

Matter of school supplies brought forth some very heated arguments. Motion by Hamilton, that a list of supplies necessary be handed the various local dealers and that they be asked to quote prices on same at yearly contract for monthly deliveries. Carried.

Motion by Wheatley, that same parties be asked to quote on all supplies, other than text books, includ-

NEW MINERS' ORGANIZATION

Blairmore, June 3, 1925.

Editor Enterprise:
Will you allow us space in your valuable paper to make a few remarks on the new organization which took birth at Blairmore on Monday, June 1st.

We had delegates from all camps from Michel to Hillcrest, and they outlined an all-Caribian organization that will be known as "The Mine Workers' Union of Canada." This organization desires to embrace the whole of District 18, which was formerly covered by the United Mine Workers of America, and hopes that every man working in and around mines in the different camps will become affiliated therewith.

While we are on the subject, I would like to say that some funny things happened in Blairmore on June 1st. On that day we had quite a few entertainers, but the boys were not in the mood for fun. It was business first and then play.

In Nova Scotia the O.B.U. and U.M.W. of A. are in a fight to see which organization will gain the day; but in District 18 they are going around like chums hand in hand. Do not be fooled, men, by their cute tricks. This is the straw that broke the camel's back.

FREE TEXT BOOKS FOR ALBERTA PUBLIC SCHOOLS

The following letter, which appeared in a recent issue of the Calgary Herald, deals with a subject that has been occupying the attention of the Blairmore School Board for some time past:

"Now that economy is the slogan elsewhere, there is one way in which the city could save a large sum of money annually and also increase the efficiency of our schools. I refer to the supplying of free text books and supplies to the public schools.

I consider this to be not only wasteful to the city but entirely harmful to the children. If our economists could look at the quantities of good, scarcely used paper thrown into the wastebaskets every day, they would be amazed. This is not the fault of the teachers, as they cannot check up on all discarded paper. As a consequence of having free paper, the work is infinitely more sloppy than if the child had to account to its parents for all supplies. I do not mean the actual writing itself (for the teacher can check up on that) but to the half-used sheets, scattered work and criminal waste on all sides.
A teacher would be distracted trying to watch it.

For eight years or more the child has free supplies at his disposal, and by the end of that time has the idea of waste, irresponsibility and non-appreciation firmly embedded in his mind.

Then, as to text books, the matter is even worse. When the fall term opens, a stack of more or less mutilated old books are passed out, together with a few new ones. The child who receives a dirty and torn book has a constant alibi and cannot well be punished for the condition of his book; he says: "It was like that when I got it." Then, suppose some really neat child receives a mutilated book; is there an incentive to take care of it?

Also the torn pages, missing or blotted maps, etc., cause waste of time and efficiency, while, if the child furnishes and guards his own books this would be avoided.

And as I think parents should furnish all text books and most other supplies (except examination foolscap for instance), children would learn the priceless lesson of responsibility, appreciation and care of property, and we would not see the tragedy of a fastidious little girl with an ill-used text book in which she can take no pride. The value in class efficiency cannot be estimated.

Possibly the school board could still purchase the books and sell at cost to the pupils in some way.

"I am sure that not one thinking parent in Calgary would object to buying his children's books if he could see the present waste and understand what wasteful habits are being formed. Very needy cases could be cared for.

Hoping to see some discussion on this question.

ECONOMIST."

Joseph Hovan is relieving Agent
Passmore here for a few days.

Constable Ray Hobkirk has been transferred from the Blairmore A.P.
P. station to Drumheller, and left for his new post on Sunday last.

The Boy Scouts and Cubs would welcome the offer of cars to take them to the Scouts' Sports at Lundbreck on Saturday, June 20th. Any offers can be left with Rev. H. L.
Noble at St. Luke's church.

ROYAL BANK NOW SECOND

WINNIPEG, May 23.—After negotiations extending over the last six weeks, the merging of the Union Bank of Canada, with the Royal Bank of Canada, is now practically an accomplished fact, following permission granted by the federal finance minister, and within the next two months complete ratification of the purchase agreement by the shareholders of both institutions will be made, it is expected, linking up two of the largest financial systems in the Dominion. In point of assets, the Royal Bank will hold second position in the Dominion, with the Bank of Montreal first, the Bank of Commerce third and Nova Scotia fourth.

Favorable comment was forthcoming today from the business interests of this city, and affirmed the statement issued last night by W.
R. Allan, president of the Union Bank, that the merger would be of "great benefit to the shareholders of both banks" was regarded favorably by business interests throughout the Dominion.

if every one is as careful with fire

Quite a few surprises greeted the fans at the Coleman-Blairmore senior baseball league game here on Tuesday night. For the first four innings Blairmore seemed to have matters much their own way and the two runs notched up for Blairmore were accredited to our local Johnny Dicken.
Starting with the fifth the visitors got in the running and for a while it looked disastrous for the locals, who picked up again towards the finish and ended matters with a tune of eight to six.

This summer the most northerly main station of the North West Territories and Yukon Wireless System at Alkavik in the Mackenzie River delta. Alkavik is more than 2,400 miles north of Edmonton by the regular travelled route and is the terminal of the Mackenzie River navigation and the northern winter mail service. ## Not A Pleasure Trip

Tours of Prince of Wales Are Very Tiring

It is said that this official tour may be the last the Prince will make. When he returns he will have seen practically the whole of the British Empire—certainly far more of it than any other member of the royal family. He will be equipped then with some intimate knowledge of the many lands under the flag and with first-hand information of the needs and conditions of many different peoples. The untraveller little busybodies who regard every tour the Prince makes as a joyous holiday—expensive and unnecessary—will do well to remember that these journeys, as conditions by ceremony and official business. The Prince has not set forth on a pleasure trip—but on what will be a very fatiguing journey of imperial duty, London Daily News.

Modern Advertising

One of the principles insisted upon by the exponents of modern advertising is that truth is more potent than deceit. ## Known About Jutland Plans

Britain Informed About Battle and English Fleet Moved First

Prof. Bernard John Wilden-Hart, who has made military intelligence in Europe a study, in a lecture before members of the Liverpool Geographical Society, asserted that for several years before the war Germany had 8,000 spies scattered at various points between Berlin and Brussels. The German army billets in Belgian towns and villages had been arranged and scheduled three years before a shot was fired in 1914, Prof. Wilden-Hart asserted.

The lecturer, who was professor of English at the Imperial Japanese University, Nagoya, from 1909 to 1915, and has written numerous works on the espionage systems in Russia, Germany, Japan, Poland and other countries, said that the German naval plans concerning the battle of Jutland were ascertained by British intelligence officers 24 hours before the Germans moved a vessel for the night and that as a matter of fact the English fleet moved first.

Fifteen hundred waitresses will attend the guests who will require more than 50,000 plates and dishes, 24,000 glasses, and 10,000 pieces of cutlery. Messrs. Lyons and Co., Ltd., the caterers for the banquet, will supply all this glass and china from their ordinary stock.

The cooking will be done in seven kitchens, which will be under the control of a central office, electrically fitted like the cooking-tower of a warship.

Dog Devoted To Master

Did Not Live Very Long After His Friend Died

By the death of Rex, a red-haired terrier, the house dog at the Hotel Victoria, Aldershot, shortly after the funeral of Lt.-Col. E. M. Murray, a remarkable story of a dog's devotion to a human friend is brought to light.

Rex was deeply attached to the colonel, who stayed at the hotel, and during the funeral ceremony Rex ran into the cemetery chapel and sat under the colonel's jacket draped coffin. He afterwards walked beside the cortege to the graveyard. After the funeral Rex disappeared for two days. When he returned home he refused to eat or to be consoled, and died shortly afterwards.

Cumbersome Machines Are Slowly Becoming More Air-Worthy

These are cumbersome affairs, unwieldy in gales, and in many respects they have hardly emerged from the experimental stage. Year by year, however, they become a little more air-worthy, a little more able to come safely through gales and mishaps. They are not to nearly masters of the skyroads as the aeroplane, but they seem to be slowly and sometimes painfully achieving that mastery. New York Post.

Aerial Company Organized

Aeroplane Taxi Business Is Flourishing in Southern Saskatchewan

Lieut. O. H. Clearwater, R.A.F., Saskatoon aviator, has moved all his flying equipment from Saskatoon to the south of the province. There he has organized a $10,000 aerial company with aeroplanes and baggage at Shaunavon and Brackton. He bought out the commercial aviation company at Moose Jaw and he now has four planes. Aeroplane taxi business, Clearwater says, has been flourishing all spring and one of the most important features of his summer programme is the transportation of Shaunavon doctors to their country calls. Two Shaunavon doctors have a territory of 200 miles, and the aviator has placed one "ship" entirely at their disposal. The physicians intend to use the air route for all their trips of greater distance than 10 miles from Shaunavon. Already the flyer has been receiving two and three calls a day from them since he started sky-attacking in March.

Rent Estates For Golf

Many English Landlords Obtain Revenue From Practical Idea

Many of England's great landlords are taking the defensive to steady their waning fortunes by getting rid of sections of their vast estates on the credit side of the ledger. The novel remunerative method adopted last year on the estate of the old Cecil family in laying out and renting an eighteen-hole golf course has been adopted by many other owners this year, and carried further so as to include tennis courts and polo grounds.

Those cases where the estates are near cities have found the idea most practical. On weekends there have been steady streams of golfers who cannot afford to join expensive clubs to these links, where they are able to play for about a half-crown a round. The Marquis of Queensbury has built tennis courts on his estate.

Tablet Dedicated in Edison's Honor

Unveiled By His Wife At Menlo Park, N.J.

On the scene where he conceived many of his great inventions and carried on the experiments which resulted in the perfection of his greatest work, at Menlo Park, N.J., a bronze tablet commemorating these achievements was unveiled in honor of Thomas A. Edison recently. The tablet was the gift to the State of New Jersey of the Edison Pioneers, men who worked side by side with the inventor in the old days, and it was unveiled by Mrs. Edison, the inventor's wife, while prominent speakers related the tremendous effect his inventions had had upon the progress of mankind.

The tablet, set in a huge granite boulder with a base of concrete containing bricks from the foundation of the first Edison home in Menlo Park, is on the Lincoln Highway close to the original Edison laboratories and workshop. Participating in the affair were about 500 of Mr. Edison's friends and former associates, who sat in chairs placed directly on the highway, the traffic over which had been diverted for the occasion. The tablet bears this inscription:

"On this site—1879-1882—Thomas A. Edison began his work of service for the world to illumine the path of progress and lighten labor for mankind. This tablet is placed by the Edison Pioneers to attest the gratitude of the industries he did so much to create."

King Refuses Legacy
Of Welsh Castle

Countess Hoped It Would Be Permanent Residence For England's

Disregarding ancient precedent set down by Roman emperors, King George recently declined to accept a legacy of Gwyrch Castle in Wales and $250,000 of its upkeep, bequeathed to him in trust by the Countess of Desmond, who died last year leaving an estate valued at more than $1,000,000. Hope was expressed in the countess' will that the castle would become a permanent residence for the kings of Wales, but as the bequest has been disclaimed by the ruler the property will pass, according to directions, to the Order of St. John of Jerusalem in England. The castle will be used by the order as a priory for residential and administrative purposes.

In connection with King George's refusal to receive the legacy it is recalled that the Roman emperors, from Augustus on down the line, vastly increased their private estates, as was the case with King Peter's authority has been unquestioned. It must have cut him to the quick to have his actions challenged. He did not quit, but justified his conduct, explaining the occurrences to them just as they had happened.

Exploiting the Arctic

Canada Trying to Learn Extent of Riches in Far North

There are no insurmountable physical obstacles to the exploitation of the Arctic and especially of Baffinland, in which the Canadians are particularly interested. The northern portion of that great expanse of territory lies beyond the Arctic Circle, but it does not extend farther north than 75 degrees. The northern extremity of Spitzbergen passes the 80th parallel, and coal has been mined in Spitzbergen. In the years before the Great War several companies were engaged in the business. There was a time when Americans participated in it. What was done in Spitzbergen could be done in Baffinland or elsewhere in the Arctic. Certainly the Canadians are showing wisdom in attempting to find out the extent of the riches which may be concealed beyond the Arctic Circle. They may remember to their ultimate benefit that time was when Alaska, lying wholly within what was then regarded as the Far North, was destroyed known as Seward's Folly—Boston Transcript.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

JUNE 7

PETER'S BROADENING VISION

Golden Text: Of a truth I perceive that God is no respecter of persons. Acts 10:34.

Lesson: Acts 10:1 to 11:18.

Devotional Reading: Isaiah 61:1-9.

The Text Explained and Highlighted

I. Peter Condemned by the Church at Jerusalem, verses 1-4. The apostles and the brethren at Jerusalem heard that Peter had preached to Gentiles in Caesarea, and on his return to Jerusalem they rebuked him, not for the preaching, but for having gone into the house of Gentiles and eaten with them (chem. suffix). "You went in to men uncircumcised and ate with them!" they exclaimed in horror. Up to this time Peter's authority has been unquestioned. It must have cut him to the quick to have his actions challenged. He did not quit, but justified his conduct, explaining the occurrences to them just as they had happened.

II. Peter's Vision and Its Lesson, verses 5-10. Webster defines a trance as "A state in which the soul seems to have passed out of the body into another state of being, or to be trapped in a vision, an ecstasy." It was while Peter was praying in the city of Joppa that he fell into a trance and had a vision by which God taught him a great truth.

Discover New Gas in Sun

Total Eclipse in January Gave Scientists Their Chance

A new gas has been discovered by scientists as a result of the observations made during the recent total eclipse of the sun, according to Professor Frederick Slocum, head of the Van Ness Observatory at Wesleyan University.

Professor Slocum says that the only time the scientists can study the gas about the sun is when the sun is in total eclipse. In January, their brief observation determined that there is a gas there whose presence they had not recognized before.

Professor Slocum said scientists are not prepared as yet to name the gas or to discuss its probable properties.

Madame Albani Appointed Dame of the Order of the British Empire

A singular tribute was paid to Madame Albani, famous Canadian prima donna, who has been appointed dame of the Order of the British Empire, when royalty, representatives of the English society and prominent leaders in the world of arts, attended a benefit concert at Covent Garden today for retirement in London.

The royal box was occupied by Princess Mary and many other royales. Madame Albani, who occupied another box with her party, was presented with huge bouquets by Madame Melba, representing music, and Mrs. Kendal, representing the drama.

French Are Peaceful People

All Classes Living in Dread Of Another War

Contrary to foreign opinion—which will not understand and with which France is the most pacific country in the world, I have talked with peasants in the fields, with professional men and intellectuals, with shopkeepers and politicians. "But," he added, "you always find the bigger the gun, the bigger the boys." The longer the speech, the bigger the talk.

"He said that!" she cried. "He said that! Oh, he turned away, and through the slender, chattering trunks of the boarding orange trees he looked out across the glittering waters of the great harbor to the distant hills. Thus for a little while, my lord staid, ing still, fearfully, waiting for fuller revelation of her mind. At last it came, slowly, deliberately, in a voice that at moments was half suffocated."

"What weighs—oh, so heavily and bitterly—is the thought that but for the words in which yesterday I repelled him, he might have been saved. And now he is lost—back at his out-laws and place, in which ultimately he will be taken and destroyed. And the fault is mine—mine!"

"You have no cause for shame," said he. "As for your sorrow—why, if it will afford you solace—why you may still count on me to do what man can to rescue him from this position."

"You will do that!" she cried with sudden, eager hopefulness. "You promise!"

"I promise," he answered her. And then, retaining still the hand she had surrendered to him—his hand—he said very gently, "There is still this other matter upon which you have not answered me. This matter that concerns myself, and all my future, oh, so very closely. This thing that Blood believed that prompted him."

"This thing that you are not indifferent to me." He saw the fair face change color and grow troubled once more.

"Indifferent to you?" said she. "Why, no. We have been good friends; we shall continue so, I hope, my lord."

"Friend! Good friends!" He was between dismay and bitterness. "It is not your friendship only that I ask, Arabella. You heard what I said, what I reported. You will not say that Peter Blood was wrong."

"Really she sought to disengage her hand, the trouble in her face increasing. A moment he resisted; then, realizing what he did, he set her free."

"Arabella!" he cried on a note of sudden pain.

"I have friendship for you, my lord. But only friendship."

"Is it Peter Blood?"

"Peter Blood!" she echoed. "I do not know," she said, frowning a little.

Sick a Year. Got Great Benefit from Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Bloomington, N. S.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for pains and backache, also for nervousness, sick headaches and sleeplessness. I was troubled in this way for over a year, and a friend told me about the Vegetable Compound and induced me to take it. I must say I have received great benefit from it and am able to do my housework now. I recommend the Vegetable Compound myself and am willing for you to use this letter as a testimonial."—Mrs. WILMA MOORE, Bloomington, Annapolis County, N. S.

You know that in a recent census among women users of the Vegetable Compound over 220,000 replies were received. To the question, "Have you received benefit by taking the Vegetable Compound?" 98 per cent. replied "Yes."

This means that 38 out of every 100 women are in better health because they have given this medicine a fair trial.

moves all restrictions in the matter of Tortuga. We are free to invest it in the service of the Crown. A victory there and we establish ourselves in the favor of this new government."

"Ah!" said Lord Julian, and he pulled thoughtfully at his lip. "Bishop laughed coarsely."

"We'll hunt this rascal in his lair, right under the heart of the King of France, and we'll take him this time, if we reduce Tortuga to a heap of ashes."

On that expedition they sailed two days later—which would be some three months after the blood's departure—taking every ship of the fleet, and several lesser vessels as auxiliaries. To Arabella and the world in general it was given out that they were going to raid French Hispaniola.

CHAPTER XXII.
The Service of King Louis

Meanwhile, some three months before Colonel Bishop set out to reduce Tortuga, Captain Blood, bearing hell in his soul, had blown into its rock-bound harbor ahead of the winter's gales, and two days ahead of the gale, in which Wolverstone had sailed from Port Royal a day before him.

In that snug anchorage he found his feet awaiting him—the four ships which had been separated in that gale off the Lesser Antilles, and some seven hundred men composing their crews.

His captains, Hagthorpe, Christian, and Yberville, were on the jetty to receive him, and with them were some hundreds of his business men. When they played him with questions, he bade them await the coming of Wolverstone, who would satisfy their curiosity, and took his way alone to the fine house of M. d'Ogeron, there to lay his respects to his father, the Governor and the Governor's family.

When the Old Wolf cast anchor in the bay two days later, it was to him all turned for the explanation they were about to demand of Blood. Now Wolverstone had only one eye; but he saw a deal more with that one eye than do most men with two; and he had the sound heart of a boy, and it that heart much love for Peter Blood.

As soon as ashore he was beset by questioning business men, it was from their very questions that he gathered exactly how matters stood, and perceived that either from lack of courage or other motive, Blood, himself, had refused to render any account of his doings since the Arabella had departed for her sister ship.

"The Captain was ever a modest man," he explained to Hagthorpe and those others who came crowding round him. "It's not his way to be sending his own praises. Why, it was like this. We fell in with old Don Miguel, and when we'd scuttled him we took aboard a London private sent out by the Secretary of State to offer the Captain the King's commission if he so be his old piracy and his evil behavior."

"The Captain damned his soul to hell for answer. And then we fell in with the Jamaica fleet, and that grey old devil Bishop in command, and there was a sure end to Captain Blood and to every man's son of us all. So I go to him, and I accept this 'poxy commission,' says I; 'turn King's man and save your neck and ours.' He took me at my word, and the London private gave him the King's commission on the spot, and Bishop was his own master with rage when he was told of it. But happened it had, and he was forced to swallow it. We are King's men all, so into Port Royal we sailed along of Bishop. But Bishop didn't trust us. He knew too much. But for his lordship, the fellow from London, he'd have hanged the Captain, King's commission and all."

Can Control Electric Trains By Radio

Conductor and Engineer Could be Eliminated Says New York Expert

According to Mr. G. Y. Allen, radio expert, of New York, through the use of modern developments in radio, it is entirely possible to operate electric trains from a central control office.

Mr. Allen does not advocate the elimination of the engineer, the conductor and train crew, although he says it now is entirely feasible, through the combination of automatic control and radio supervisory control, to start a train without a crew, run it at full speed over clear tracks, slow it down or stop it, in accordance with the signals of an automatic block signalling system, start it up again when the signal clear, stop it at its next station stop and open its doors.

"The supervisor at the central office would receive complete information by radio at all times as to the position and operation of the train," Mr. Allen explained. "He could take personal charge of its operation, at any time, and he could talk directly to the passengers to give them any desired directions."

Water Clocks Used By Ancient Greeks

Hours of Day in Summer Longer Than Hours of Night

By the ancient Egyptians the day was divided into 24 hours of equal length. The Greeks adopted a different system, dividing the day, that is, the period between sunrise and sunset, into 12 hours—and also the night. Whence it followed that it was only at two periods of the year that the length of the hours during the day and night were uniform. In consequence, those who adopted the Greek system were obliged to furnish their water clocks with a compensating device so that the equal hours measured by those clocks should be rendered unequal according to the exigencies of the season. In summer, when the period of daylight is longer than the period of darkness, the hours of the day were longer than the hours of night, because day and night, whether long or short, were each divided into 12 hours.

This water clock of the ancient Greeks, also used by the Romans, was called clepsidra, from two Greek words, meaning to steal water.

Palestine To Have Its Own Coinage

Over Thousand Years Since Last Last Coins Were Issued By Jews

Palestine, by a recent decision of the British Government, is to have its own currency, the names of the units—shekels, dinars and prutims—being those used in an ancient monetary system closely connected with Jewish history.

It was about one thousand eight hundred years ago that the last coins issued by a Jewish nation were put into circulation.

GIVE CONFIDENCE TO YOUNG MOTHERS

A simple and safe remedy for the common ills of childhood should be kept in every home where there is a baby or young child. Often it is necessary to give the little one something to break up a cold, allay fever, correct sour stomach and banish the irritability that accompanies the cutting of teeth. Experienced mothers know Baby's Own Tablets on hand for such purposes and young mothers can feel safe with a box of the Tablets ready for emergencies. The Tablets are a mild but thorough laxative that act without griping and they are guaranteed to be absolutely free from any harmful drugs. They are sold by all druggists or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Hon. Wm. Morrow, L.M.C., member of the legislative council of the Upper House of South Australia, who arrived in Toronto recently, predicts that within a few years, Canada, and Ontario particularly, will be among the leading countries of the world.

The members of Vimy Chapter, O. E. S., assembled on Monday evening, when a shower was given in honor of Miss Winnie, Christophers, whose marriage was to take place on the following Wednesday. Crowneer Rebekah Lodge did a similar honor last Thursday night. On each occasion, the bride-to-be was recipient of many beautiful, valuable and useful presents.

Despite the fact that a little knock that meant a boost was meted out by the Coleman paper last week. Coleman was represented by the hundreds in every nook and corner of the circus grounds yesterday. The average parent feels that the sights seen by the kiddies well repaid them for the little money spent. It might be remembered that the Al. G. Barnes circus was never intended as a small-town show—and Mr. Barnes states that that is the reason he did not stop in Coleman.

The Methodist Conference, in session in Edmonton recently, seemed to be on the inside track of illicit traffic and moonshining in liquor going on in this province that nobody else in the province knew anything about. Police records, since the act, show nothing whatever of illicit traffic or moonshining, and it is concluded definitely that the present liquor act has absolutely killed all chances of such business. Furthermore, there is less drunkenness in Alberta today than at any time since Alberta became a province.

Any child wishing to sell, can apply to Rev. H. L. Nobbs at St. Luke's church on Friday evening at 7.30.

The Pincher Creek Board of Trade has issued a very creditable booster pamphlet, descriptive of the district and its farming, fishing and other advantages. Coupled with it is a map, showing the various trails and fishing streams, as well as the mountain ranges which are easily reached by pack horse or motor car. Pincher Creek lays claim to some two hundred miles of fishing streams, which literally abound with speckled trout, cut-throat and bull trout. In recent years some of the streams have been stocked liberally with fry from the Banff hatchery.

Vancouver is also suffering from a system of kangaroo courts and trials by prejudice. In connection with the trial of Wong Foon Sing, it is claimed that the province of British Columbia is standing on the brink of the most ghastly injustice that has ever been perpetrated in Canada. If Wong is guilty, all well and good, he must hang. If he is not guilty, somebody must answer for the hardships that have been handed out to him. Not in British Columbia alone, but in practically every state of our Dominion we are being confronted regularly with official tactics that savor more of lynch law than of the great fundamental of British justice.

The Orion board of trade has passed a resolution, asking the government to put a closed season on coyotes for five years in order to exterminate the jack rabbit, which, it is feared, will destroy from five to ten per cent of the grain this year in that district.

A sarcophagus of Kootenay granite costing $5000 now surmounts the tomb of the late Peter Veregin on the rocky hill overlooking Brilliant, in British Columbia. Doves surmount it and a grubber and a shovel, typifying the agricultural pursuits of the Dookhobors.

Some party, so far unknown, threw a stone through one of the large plate-glass windows of the Cosmopolitan hotel on Friday night last. The glass is valued at more than $200 and was covered by insurance. In connection with this, two young men have been held in custody. One has already been made victim to the extent of thirty days, while the other has been sent up for trial and will likely be dealt with speedily. The outcome of this latter case will be watched with interest, as it appears there was insufficient evidence to warrant a commitment.

The Cranbrook Courier states: The name of William Sherman, president of District 18, United Mine Workers of America, is prominently mentioned in and around Fernie as a likely candidate for Dominion honors. Mr. Sherman has been active of late in the various mining camps where his followers, few in number, are nevertheless pushing him forward as the logical man to carry the banner in the fight for labor's rights. It is said he has the whole-hearted support of Tom Uphill, Labor member in the Provincial Legislature, and a tower of strength in the ranks of those holding fast to the principles of the United Mine Workers, which body prompted the long drawn out strike which almost put Fernie in the municipal cemetery and obliterated the town from the map of British Columbia. With Tommy dictating provincial matters and Willie in control of Dominion affairs, Fernie would be between the devil and the deep sea.
